

“It’s good for strategic thinking and good for social skills. There is a very rigid underlying social etiquette in bridge and the same in life. Playing bridge is very social and you talk with so many different people.”

Paddy, age 12

7

8

9

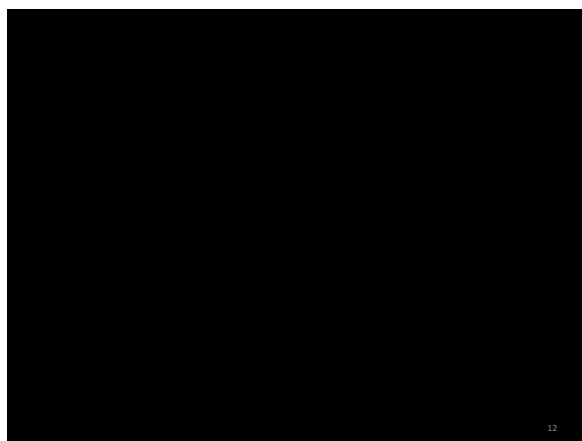

10

Playing bridge is a passion shared around the table and across generations of family and friends

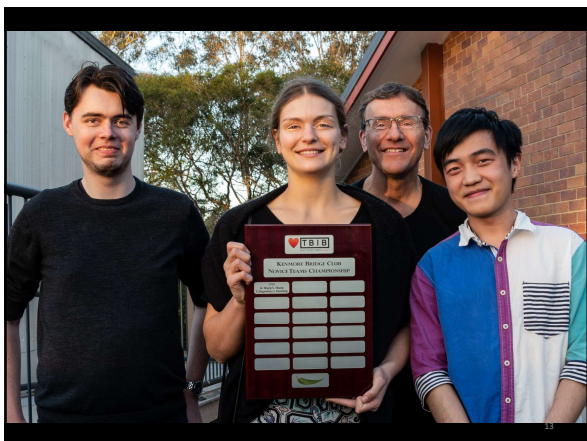

11

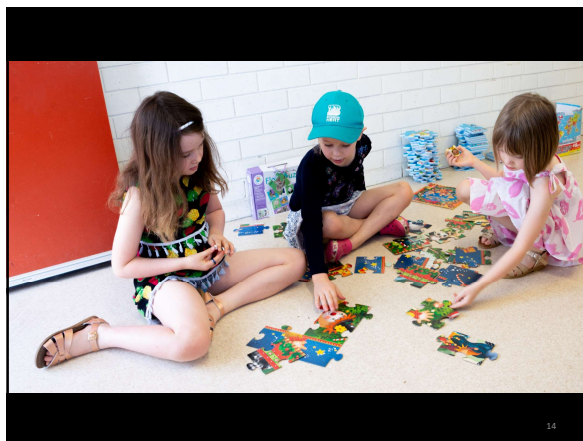

12

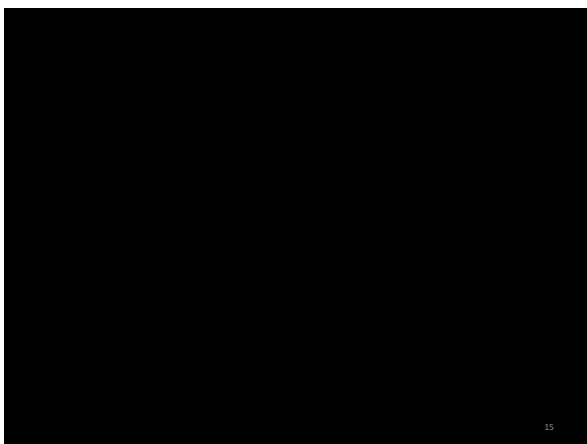

Ageing & Intergenerationality

13

14

15

16

17